EVENING SOCIAL EVENT

Visit to

Wheatfen Broad, Surlingham

Friday 23 May 2008

At 7.30 pm

Wheatfen Broad is one of the few remaining areas of the once extensive Yare Valley swamp. It is, undoubtedly, one of the most important sites of its kind in Britain.

Wheatfen is now managed as a nature reserve and consists largely of open fen, reed beds, sallow carr and the small broads Wheatfen and Deep Waters.

The warden David Nobbs will show as around. It is a beautiful place with wonderful wildlife - birds, plants, mammals and insects.

Wellies are desirable.

There is no food (but we can go to the pub afterwards).

Directions can be found at <http://www.wheatfen.org/tethtml/tet.html>

or please contact me for a map.

Price There is no charge for entry but contributions towards the upkeep of the reserve are always very welcome – we are suggesting £5 per person
